We Want You to See Our Fall and Winter Style Garments and Materials

EACH season we endeavor to reach a higher perfection in all lines. This fact was never better shown than in our offerings for this fall and winter. All of the best of the Paris styles that could be adapted to the American woman, and the best conception of the leading American designers are here for you. There are always some new features, some distinct ideas every season; you will find them here—the unique, the unusual, the uncommon. In assembling our fall stocks, as usual, we have given due consideration to every taste and purse—nothing just as good finds place here—it must be the best at the right price.
